THIS IS THE MAIN PORTION OF THE CROWD WHICH attended the kick-off banquet for the annual membership drive of the Hempstead County Farm Bureau, at the Diamond Cafe's main dining room Monday night.

Farm Bureau Plans Membership Campaign

Confidence in Ability of U. S. Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining told senators today he is convinced that no nation could attack the United States now or in the future "without receiving unacceptable damage."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff voiced this confidence in the U. S. defense program—and the deterrent authority it carries for any enemy—in testimony to the Senate Space and Preparedness committees.

These groups have heard a parade of high military figures urge multibillion-dollar additions to President Eisenhower's 41-billion-dollar defense budget.

Only Monday, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said the Navy wants six more Polaris missile submarines and would ask nearly a billion dollars for them. But he also said he didn't know whether the Defense Department would back this view, and that he supported the President's budget.

Twining reminded the senators that it is his responsibility to advise the President, the secretary of defense and the National Security Council.

He also said that he believes U. S. intelligence estimates are reliable and that they and resulting plans are revised almost daily.

Twining said that it always is natural for each military commander to "like to have just a little more" than he receives, adding that he respects their views even if he disagrees.

Sen. John D. Stennis (D-Miss.), presiding in the absence of Sen. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, said the senators wanted Twining's advice as the JCS chairman, former Air Force chief of staff and as a citizen.

Stennis commented that President Eisenhower soon would be participating in a summit conference. He said it might be unwise to have some parts of the world "thinking we are second" in national defense and military strength.

Hempstead County Farm Bureau launched the personal contact phase of its 1960 membership campaign last night at a dinner meeting with 73 captains and workers present. The organization seeks to enroll 601 families.

Charles Key, county president, said Clifford Russell has been selected to head the drive as membership chairman. Township captains are:

Dorian, Fred Glanton, R. F. Huffman, William Schooley and John Hawkins; Bodine, Jesse B. Powell and L. D. Rider; Bois D'Arc, Mrs. Mary Spates and Mrs. Lamar Williams; Garland, Irvin Burke; Noland, Andrew Avery;

Mine Creek, Stoman Goodlett; Ozan, Moss Howe and J. O. Luck; Redland, Leon Prosscott; Saline, B. C. Webb; Spring Hill, Garland Kidd; Wallaceburg, Carl Brown; and Water Creek, Roy Fry.

Workers will report results of the first week's effort on Feb. 15. A second and final report has been scheduled for Feb. 22.

"Everything points to successful completion of the drive by Feb. 22," Mr. Key said. "A brief and vigorous campaign will free members to work toward objectives set by Farm Bureau at the county, state and national level."

Farmers here have indicated their approval of Farm Bureau accomplishments in the past by loyally renewing their membership," he said. Last year's membership was 864.

Offer a Better Farm Plan, Ike Challenges Foe

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower presented the Democratic-controlled Congress today with an election year challenge to come up with something better than his plan to lower price supports and relax controls to solve the wheat surplus problem.

In a special message, he renewed his arguments for the administration formula.

But he said he will go along with anything constructive which Congress works out. If it fails within three guidelines.

This was a break with the administration's past position. It has insisted that the wheat surplus problem be met by lowering price supports and eliminating controls. This approach is designed to discourage high-cost producers and to encourage greater use of the grain as a livestock feed.

This change in tone came after Republican leaders in Congress—presumably including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the potential Republican presidential nominee—had urged that the administration back up from its insistence upon lower supports.

The three guidelines for meeting the wheat situation—which the President described as particularly acute—include:

1. That price-support levels be realistically related to whatever policy Congress chooses in respect to production control. Eisenhower said it must be recognized that the higher the support the more the farmer must be regimented.
2. That price support levels not be so high as to stimulate still more excessive production, reduce domestic markets, and increase the subsidies required to hold world markets.
3. That direct subsidy programs for crops in surplus be avoided, likewise that the chosen programs not invite harmful counter measures by friends or badly hurt other farmers in seeking to aid one group.

"Within these three guidelines, I am constantly ready to approve any one or a combination of any constructive proposals," Eisenhower said. "I will approve legislation which will eliminate production controls, or make them really effective, or allow the farmers themselves to choose between realistic alternatives."

"I am willing to give supports to market prices of previous years, or to establish supports in accordance with general rather than specific provisions of law, or to relate price supports to parity."

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

The whole tone of the Eisenhower election year message—with both parties bidding for the often crucial farm vote—was to put it squarely up to the Democratic-controlled Congress to do something about solving the problems the President outlined.

"If the Congress wishes to propose a plan as an alternative to the course here recommended, so long as that plan is constructive as I have indicated herein, I will approve it," Eisenhower said.

Sugar Curtain Surrounds Mr. Mikoyan

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—The sugar curtain descended again today around the activities of Anastas I. Mikoyan. Secrecy veiled his program after two public appearances here Monday.

There was no doubt that Cuban officialdom was getting a good impression of the visiting first deputy Soviet premier.

During a 24-hour period in the capital, the top salesman for Soviet communism spread charm among Cubans and foreigners alike.

His stages were the 18-story building housing the Agrarian Reform Institute, and then the ornate Louis XV salon of the Presidential Palace.

Thirty chiefs of diplomatic missions, including U.S. Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock, were among 300 guests at a reception Monday night. This was the first chance foreigners here had to meet Mikoyan personally. He exchanged banter with newsmen and even teased Braddock.

Mikoyan toasted Prime Minister Fidel Castro with a Daiquiri saying in Spanish: "Salud" (health). Castro, who had changed into an unfamiliar dress uniform, explained the drink was made of lemon and rum.

"We drink vodka straight," Mikoyan replied. "Vodka mixed—it loses its quality."

One diplomat quipped: "He'll have the Cubans buying Russian sugar if he sticks around long enough."

Market in Very Mild Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a mild and unconvincing recovery today with trading light early this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

The list was higher from the start in a continuation of the rebound from sharp losses which began Monday afternoon. After about an hour of fairly broad advance, however, the upward drive weakened and a number of stocks replaced gains with losses.

Steels canceled early gains and were mostly lower. Auto stocks were mixed at best.

Rails, airlines, tobaccos, chemicals and mail order-retails kept a generally higher tone.

Magma Copper, which reached a 1959-60 low Monday, rebounded about 2 points then shaved the gain. Aldens Inc. met demand rose more than 2.

General Time and Bell & Howell rose more than a point apiece.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and General Motors were down about a point each. Jones & Laughlin and American Motors were up slightly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 to $215.90 with the industrials up .60, the rails up .70 and the utilities up .30.

U.S. government bonds were lower.

Graham Talks to 35,000 in Africa

ENUGU, Nigeria (AP)—Billy Graham received an enthusiastic welcome Monday night from 35,000 people who crowded into a sports stadium here in the capital of eastern Nigeria.

Bishop E. T. Dimeari of the Anglican Nigeria, welcomed the American evangelist. He said that when it was decided to invite Graham to Nigeria this year, the Christian Council did not know the visit would coincide with Nigeria's independence year.

Dr. Michael Okpara, premier of Eastern Nigeria, welcomed Graham on behalf of the government and people.

"This is the biggest crowd I have seen in the region for many years. I hope Graham's visit will mark the beginning of a religious revival all over Nigeria," he said.

Graham in his reply said the crowd was "more than the fulfillment of reports I have heard about eastern Nigeria."

"I was told here the people worship God," he said. "The demonstration confirms it."

Vaccinations for Rabies Are Schedule

At the request of community leaders a schedule has been set up to vaccinate dogs against rabies, according to an announcement by Calvin Caldwell, County Agent. Dogs will be vaccinated Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Dr. Herbert Rogers, veterinarian, has secured a supply of vaccine and will do most of the vaccinating in Hempstead County at a price of $1 per head.

A few cases of rabies in cows have been found in the county and it is very important that as many dogs as possible be vaccinated against this disease. Records show that no man or animal has ever been known to recover from rabies. The vaccination assists in the elimination of the dog as a carrier of the disease. When properly vaccinated protection should last for at least a year.

Mr. Caldwell says it is planned to return to leave each vaccination station at the hour shown in the following schedule or as soon as all dogs have been vaccinated.

The stations with the time for the service on Wednesday, Feb. 10 are: Experiment Station, 8:30; Jewel Burke Store, 9:15; Lee Store on Highway 24, 9:45; Washington, 10:15; Ozan, 11:00; Gilbert store at Crossroads, 11:15; Patmos, 11:45; Spring Springs, 12:00; Patmos, 12:30; Shepard store on Highway 29.

Schedule for Thursday and Friday will appear in a later edition.

U. S. Ponders New Proposal to Ban Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will stake its hopes for a nuclear test ban on a new proposal soon to be put to the Soviets.

Under part of the U.S. plan, Soviet scientists would join Western technicians in conducting experimental, smaller-size underground explosions.

This was indicated by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Monday in speaking to a news conference about the 14-month-old Geneva conference on outlawing atomic explosions.

The nuclear powers—America, Britain and the Soviet Union—are stalemated over Moscow's refusal to accept scientific findings which the West says show a need for a stronger detection system than had been thought previously to catch sneak underground explosions.

U.S. officials said the new package may be put on the Geneva conference table this week. It is expected to propose a ban on nuclear blasts which can be spotted comparatively easily by presently known methods—explosions in the atmosphere, in space and under water as well as larger underground shots.

The Soviets said last April they wanted only an over-all ban.

Negroes in Carolina in Cafe Protest

By CHARLES L. WEST

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Young Negroes, believed to be college students, crowded into seats at two variety store lunch counters here today in protest of segregated serving policies. It was the fourth North Carolina city where such demonstrations have taken place in the past five days.

There was no disturbance here as the Negroes took seats open by sign to whites only. About 60 Negroes were in the P. W. Woolworth store, about 25 at the S. H. Kress.

Woolworth's closed its lunch counter, and it was believed Kress would follow suit. Police were at both locations.

The Negroes were thought to be students from Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte.

At Durham and Winston-Salem, where Negroes staged similar peaceful demonstrations Monday, the lunch counters were closed today. They bore identical wanted signs: "Closed temporarily in the interest of public safety."

A male caller told a Durham High School secretary shortly before classes that a bomb was planted in the building. The school, mostly white, has had three Negro students since September. Classes were delayed 30 minutes while police searched the buildings. No bomb was found.

Police said there was no apparent connection among bomb threats at the school today, at Woolworth's in Durham Monday.

Jury to Study Boys' School Fire

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Grand Jury met today with the intention of resuming a probe of the disastrous fire at the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School, but no witnesses appeared.

Foreman R. C. Davis said the jury might continue at a later date its investigation of the fire which killed 21 inmates of the school last March 5.

Davis said the jury had subpoenaed L. R. Gaines, who was superintendent of the institution at the time of the fire, but illness prevented an appearance. The foreman said he understood Gaines was in Chicago.

Another witness was subpoenaed to appear but could not make it, Davis said. No identity was disclosed.

The grand jury held 2 sessions on the fire earlier. Jury proceedings are not made public.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County grand jury meets today for its third hearing in the investigation of Wrightsville Negro Boys Industrial School fire which killed 21 inmates last March 5.

The Winston-Salem demonstration was begun by Carl Matthews, a Negro who seated himself at a Kress lunch counter.

Sanity Test for Accused Slayer

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—A sanity test is planned for William J. Morgan, 23, held in connection with the fatal shooting of his aunt in a river front home here.

Deputy Prosecutor John L. Anderson said Morgan probably will be sent to the State Hospital at Little Rock this week for a 30-day observation period.

Morgan told officers the fatal shooting of Mrs. Nell Morgan Lanier last Tuesday resulted from a dispute over a pistol he wanted to pawn. He was arrested at West Memphis on a drunk and driving charge Wednesday, and disclosed later that the shooting had occurred.

Anderson indicated no preliminary hearing was planned. He said he intended to file an information against Morgan.

Vows Atlanta to Stay Segregated

ATLANTA, (AP)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver has vowed to keep Atlanta from surrendering to the integrationists in the growing school crisis.

"We must not let them run up the flag of surrender over our capital city," he told a cheering segregation-minded audience last night. "We must not let them surrender up this hallowed ground."

Vandiver's speech to some 2,000 persons attending a dinner of the States' Rights council of Georgia Inc., indicated there was little chance the general assembly would enact legislation enabling the Atlanta Board of Education to put its pupil placement plan into effect.

U. S. District Judge Frank A. Hopper approved the board's desegregation plan recently but postponed implementation pending possible action at the current session of the legislature. State law now prohibits integration in the public schools.

Woman May Sell Out Nursing Home

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Neal Brandon may sell the nursing home here which Gov. Orval E. Faubus singled out for criticism last summer.

This was disclosed in a suit for an accounting filed by Mrs. Brandon against Mrs. Richard Cox, present operator of the home.

Mrs. Brandon contended that Mrs. Cox had not turned over five per cent of the gross monthly receipts as provided in a contract under which Mrs. Cox leased the home.

The suit said the lease could be terminated if Mrs. Brandon received a "bona fide" offer to sell the home and such an offer was received last Friday.

Jack L. Lessenberry, attorney for Mrs. Brandon, said "there is a real possibility that the home will be sold within a couple of days."

He said he was not at liberty to disclose details.

Chancellor Guy E. Williams granted Mrs. Brandon a temporary injunction forbidding Mrs. Cox to dispose of any nursing home property pending an accounting.

Last July 16 Faubus charged that "shocking mismanagement" existed at the Trinity Nursing Home, then operated by Mrs. Brandon.

Mrs. Brandon denied the assertion.

The Pulaski County Grand Jury investigated all nursing homes in the county and returned a mild report, in which neither Trinity nor any other institution was mentioned by name.

Last Nov. 16 Mrs. Brandon leased the home to Mrs. Cox, who said she would operate it as Golden Age Manor. 5

Gale said Faubus has not said whether he would be willing to have his name entered in California's June primary.

This Was Hand of a Lifetime

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—When Maurice Silberberg retired a few years ago, he decided to take up contract bridge.

He started learning it just a few months ago. Consequently, his wife and their bridge partners, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lee, were startled when he made an opening bid of seven spades.

It was the last hand of the night. Mrs. Lee, one of Silberberg's opponents, threw down two aces and a king and told him he couldn't possibly make it.

Silberberg did make it with ease. He had been dealt all 13 spades—once in a lifetime, million to one shot hand.

Weisenberger Asks 2nd Term

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Arkansas district prosecuting attorneys say they will seek re-nomination in this summer's primary.

Shotgun Slaying Is Investigated

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)—Officers investigating the shotgun slaying of 84-year-old Phillip Henry Henson found no new leads in a coroner's hearing.

The jury ruled yesterday that Henson died in the bedroom of his home near Waldenburg "at the hands of a person or persons unknown."

Questioning of relatives apparently produced no further leads and no definite motive. Henson's billfold was not found, but officers said a sack of change was undisturbed in a front room.

Henson's body was found Sunday by a grandson.

Tragedy Hits Again

LEVITOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Lucy Creamer, the mother of eight, was killed last September in an auto accident near Bethesda, Md. Her husband, Robert, invited his mother, Catherine, 69, to move in with the family to help raise the youngsters, whose ages ranged from 2 to 12. She did, and the children were beginning to get over their mother's death. They had started calling their grandmother "mother." Saturday night the grandmother was struck and killed by a car.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Won't Let Him Go

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My sweetheart is married to a woman he does not love. She is sick with selfishness and self-pity and determined to keep him at any cost. He loves only me. We are past 50 years old and wasting time. My tears can't take him away from his home and daughter. I believe our destiny was planned before we were born and what is to be will be. He and I are so close in thoughts and feelings. Why would she want to keep him?—Lonesome B.

Dear Lonesome B: Be resigned. You have chosen a rough road, I fear. Your only compensation will be your love. But, if you both love deeply, that should be enough. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my advice on divorces and separations.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a young widow who recently started dating again. Is it proper, when visiting my date's friends, on departing from their homes, to invite them to my home? I live alone and wish to make new friends but wonder if it is the thing to invite people I have just met to my home.—Confused Widow

Dear Confused Widow: It is entirely proper to invite newly made friends to your home. Include the date who introduced you to them.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

The boy I like has been in trouble. My mother says I will not be allowed to see him or go to see him or go to see his sisters or any of his family again. I think this is unfair because we don't know if it is true and even if it is, I think my mother is being awful hard on me. Would you please help me?—Troubled

Dear Troubled: Mother knows best. But since the boy and his sisters have been your friends, it will be only fair to write and explain why you can no longer see him.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Has 15 Children, Kidnaps Own Son

MEMPHIS (AP)—Charges of kidnaping her 10-year-old son from his Arkansas foster parents were filed against a Memphis mother of 15 children yesterday.

Mrs. Louise W. Humphrey later was released without bond but her son, David, was taken to juvenile court.

"He's my boy," the $20-a-week dime store clerk told Sessions Judge Willard Dixon. "I never signed permanent adoption papers."

The charge said that the boy was taken from his Kelo, Ark. home.

She said her unemployed husband was on his way to appeal to Gov. Orval E. Faubus. They blamed part of their difficulties on the Welfare Department.

Four other children are in Arkansas foster homes.

State Senator Asks Re-election

Oil Firms Conspiracy Case Resumes

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A newspaper reporter and the board chairman of the world's largest oil firm testified yesterday at the trial of 29 oil companies charged with conspiring to raise the price of crude oil and gasoline during the Suez Canal crisis of late 1956 and early 1957.

Eugene Holman, board chairman of Standard Oil of New Jersey, testified he did not discuss crude oil price increases with anyone outside his firm.

F. E. Shepherd, reporter for the Baton Rouge (La.) State Times, said he got a story from an official of a Standard of New Jersey affiliate saying the firm was going to boost prices.

Holman did say he learned that Humble Oil and Refining Co., a Standard of New Jersey affiliate, was considering a price boost. He said he got this information about a week before the industry's price increase initiated by Humble Jan. 3, 1957.

Shepherd said he got word Jan. 5, 1957 from an official of the Esso Standard Oil Co. that Esso was going to boost its crude oil prices. Esso is another Jersey Standard affiliate.

Faubus Says His Name Use by Agents

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today his name has been used without authority by some insurance agents trying to cash in on a small raise welfare clients are to get March 1.

Somewhat the same thing has happened, he said, in certain stock sales. He said his name had been used there to try to promote sales. Faubus said he had instructed department heads to seek criminal prosecutions against insurance agents who sold, or tried to sell, health and accident policies to welfare recipients in northeast Arkansas last week.

It was these agents, Faubus charged, who told prospects from the welfare rolls that the governor approved using their increase benefits to buy health and accident insurance.

In at least one instance a Lawrence County couple was told "to call the governor for verification if they thought they were not being told the truth," Faubus said.

State Insurance Commissioner Harvey C. Combs said he has cancelled agent's licenses of two men who allegedly visited the welfare clients apparently mainly in Lawrence County.

He said the two were listed as Russell Booker and Lee Smith, both of Corning, when they obtained the licenses last November.

The two gave their employer as the First United Insurance Co. of Tulsa, Okla.

Agents visiting the welfare clients used these names and said they represented the Silver Dollar Plan of the First United Co., according to Faubus and Combs.

Combs said he sent the company a copy of the cancellations and asked reimbursement for welfare clients who bought policies. If the clients are not reimbursed, Combs said he would not renew the company's license to operate in Arkansas when it expires March 1.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Construction of a Naval Reserve Electronics Facility may be completed in the 1960-61 fiscal year, it was announced today. The fiscal year starts in July.

The Defense Department has re-committed an appropriation of $7,000 for the project.

The new installation will be able to train 150 men at a time.

Formula for Mr. K

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, offers a formula for assessing the statements of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"He usually tells the truth. When he says 'I intend, that I do not believe. Or when he gives a reason why he does things, I do not believe it. But when he says, 'This has happened, I do believe it. It can be verified,' Burke said.

This was Burke's reply when a House Appropriations subcommittee questioned him behind closed doors about Khrushchev's statement the Soviet Union is cutting down manned aircraft. The transcript was made public today.

Little Change in Ratings of Cage Teams

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati continues to show the way in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll with Oscar Robertson breaking records as he goes.
The voting of 191 sports writers and sportscasters based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 6, left the first six positions unchanged from the previous week.
The newcomers among the top 20 were Holy Cross (16th) and Auburn (17th) while Kansas State, a loser, and Idaho State, Bonaventure dropped out.
The first 10 teams with points on a 10-0-0 basis with first place votes in parentheses:

Across the Counter

Kenneth McMurrough

Sir Balthazar Gerbier, noted German author of the early seventeenth century, coined a well-known phrase: "Too many cooks spoil the broth." It has application to insurance, as well as the culinary art.

The real measure of "adequate protection" is not the number of insurance policies or agents which you have. In fact, oftentimes the reverse is true. Too many "spoil" your protection. The fewer policies you have that will provide the protection you need, the less chance there will be for errors, gaps in protection or overlapping coverages.

Also, the use of modern "package" policies will almost always provide broader protection than several policies covering separate perils — and for less premium.

Centering your insurance protection with one agency leads to a simpler relationship with much less chance for error and misunderstanding. Because of the greater incentive for serving you well, you will receive much better service.

So, quit "spoiling the broth." Put your insurance protection needs in our hands. Feel free to call on us at any time we can be of service!

Snow Averts Disaster at Squaw Valley

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Rain turned to snow just in time to avert possible disaster at this Winter Olympic Games.
The snow started Monday and continued today. Weather Bureau forecaster Hal Root said he expected the snow to fall all day. The temperature at 6 a.m. was 28 degrees and Root said he doubted it would rise enough during the day to renew Monday's watery threat to the games.

Members of Lions Look Elsewhere

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP)—More than a dozen members of the Detroit Lions' football team have had contract discussions with other leagues since the 1959 season ended.
Interests representing the Canadian League and the new American Football League have made overtures to Howard Cassady, Jerry Reichow, Jim Martin, John Gordy and Nick Pietrosanti among others.
Cassady was offered $6,000 more than he receives from the Lions.

Many players in the National Football League have asked Creighton Miller, the attorney who represents the players' association, about the restrictions in the NFL contract.
"There is no doubt that many players would like to make a move," said Miller. "The opportunities are much greater now with the addition of a third professional league to go along with the NFL and the Canadian League."

"I assume that a lot of players will elect to play out their option, so they can become free agents after the 1960 season," Miller, reached at his law offices in Cleveland, said he believes the sparring between the rival leagues will develop into a fullscale court fight.

"I don't see how they can avoid it," said Miller. "It appears that the American Football League now is honoring the contracts of the old league — not taking a player unless he obtains an out-right release from his old club."

"Bert Bell (former NFL commissioner) had an agreement with some Canadian League teams about honoring each other's contracts. But somewhere along the line this thing will mushroom into a real battle."

Miller feels the standard NFL contract leaves the player at a great disadvantage. "I've already testified that the contract is weighed heavily in favor of the club," he said.

The most controversial point in the contract is the option clause. It ties up a player's services for two years when he signs a contract. The club retains an option on the player's services.

"That would be an expensive, and certainly a prolonged court test," said Miller, "but I feel it must come sooner or later."

Leading Aggies Face Razorbacks at Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Methodist and Texas A&M try to stay at the top of the Southwest Conference basketball race in games on widely separated fronts tonight.
The Aggies appear to be facing the toughest row—they must beat Arkansas on its home court. Southern Methodist gets lowly Rice at Dallas.
Texas A&M and Southern Methodist are tied for the lead with 5-1 records.
Texas stayed within breathing distance of the leaders last night when the hot-shooting Longhorns felled Texas Tech 75-66. Texas now has a 5-2 record.
The defeat put a big crimp in Texas Tech's hopes. It sent the Red Raiders down to fifth place with 3-4.
Texas was scoring the most points it ever had registered against Tech with Jay Arnette, the conference's leading scorer, making 21 points to run his season total to 331. Al Amanza with 16 backed up Arnette. Top man for Tech was Mac Percival with 17 points.
Texas ran up a 6-0 lead before Tech could even score and the Longhorns had little trouble staying ahead all the way. Once Texas led by 19 points.
Baylor and Texas Christian clash at Waco tonight in another conference game. This one means little in the race.

Stengel Knows Way a Team Looks in Spring Doesn't Mean a Pennant Is Sure

By CASEY STENGEL
Manager, New York Yankees
GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Well, I've been reading this series and I see where each manager in the American League thinks his ball club is better balanced for the 1960 season than it was a year ago. Quite a few managers expect to win the pennant.
Last year I thought we had the strongest team in the spring and I was looking for a fifth straight pennant. But that wasn't to be. We got off to a bad start and never fully recovered. Our pitching was below par and so was our punch. We had a lot of injuries but that's not meant to be an alibi. We just had a bad year. . . Many of our top stars were way below par.
That shouldn't happen again this year, for this is still a young ball club and only a partial recovery would put the Yankees in a much more favorable position. I'll admit that the top contenders appear to have improved over the winter by trades, but so have we.
Last year's second division clubs probably will have to be reckoned with. Baltimore gave up pitching to get some outfield power. But the Orioles still have good young pitchers and should be a better club this year. Boston has done a lot of shuffling and so has Kansas City. Both these clubs should be improved as should Washington.
Now let's take a look at the Yankees. We have the best catching in the league. Yogi Berra improved his hitting last year though his power fell off slightly. But he's a valuable man. Elston Howard is certainly a great man to back up Yogi.
At first, Bill Skowron looked like he was going to have one of his best seasons when he got hurt. Our doctors say he's 100 per cent now. Bobby Richardson, our second baseman, was our only regular to hit .300. Tony Kubek improved his hitting and he is developing into a good shortstop.
Andy Carey is a good third baseman and he's back in shape. Gil McDougald is sure to hit better. We have some other young infield prospects and I feel we're strong here with real major leaguers right down the line.
The outfield is improved with the addition of Roger Maris from Kansas City. Mickey Mantle had an off year, but there's no reason why he shouldn't come back. He's still young (28). Hector Lopez gave us a lot of big hits last year and

Declines Offer

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today declined an invitation to shoot Siberian waterfowl during his Indian visit starting Thursday. No reason was given.

Table Rock Boat Licenses Protested

GALENA, Mo. (AP)—Residents of the Table Rock Reservoir area will protest proposed changes in boat licensing procedures at a meeting here tomorrow night.
More than 500 are expected to attend the meeting, called by the Table Rock Chamber of Commerce.
Motor operators say they understood they would be issued permits to rent boats to guests at their resorts. But, they say, army engineers indicate the policy will be changed so that only moles in remote areas will be allowed to rent boats, thus assuring more economic stability for commercial boat dock operators.

Would Block Bowling Alley Construction

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Board of Architects today asked Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed to block the construction of a bowling alley building at Hot Springs.
The board requested injunctions against the contractor and six sub-contractors, contending that plans for the structure were not prepared by a registered architect.
According to the petition, this caused a violation of Act 157 of 1959.
The petition said Section 3 of the law provides that the court may halt construction on any project held in violation of the measure. Named as respondents were Bert W. Butler of Hot Springs, owner of the project; Brown Lee & Rogers, Inc., of Newport, the contractor; and these sub-contractors: Tom Slough, doing business as Southern Air Conditioning and Equipment Co., Mills Construction Co., and John Hammond Construction Co., all of Hot Springs, Dixie Equipment Co. of Little Rock; Raines Electric Co., a d Bruswick-Balke-Collender, the latter a non-resident firm doing business in Arkansas.
Apparently the case is the first use of the 1959 act by the architects' board.

3000 Ready to Hunt Buffalo

TORONTO (AP)—With seven months to go, more than 3000 hunters to go, more than 3000 hunters already have been received for the 100 licenses expected to be issued for Canada's second wild buffalo hunt this century.
Ed Olson, superintendent of Wood Buffalo National Park in the Northwest Territories, said Monday the bids probably will be awarded on a first-come, first-served basis.
Last September 30 hunters, all from Canada and the U.S., each shot one buffalo during the first hunt ever allowed on the 17,300-square-mile game reserve's borders. The buffalo were overflow from the reserve.

Khrushchev Asks German Treaty Now

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev brushed aside protocol at an Italian diplomatic reception Monday night to make another public demand for a peace treaty with Germany and an end to the occupation of West Berlin.
Visiting Italian leaders, drawn into an impromptu debate with the unpredictable Khrushchev, reiterated the Western position that Soviet terms are unacceptable.
Khrushchev launched into his views on the German question following a toast at the crowded reception, given for himself and Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov by visiting Italian President Giovanni Gronchi.
"If we don't resolve these (German) problems now," the Premier warned, "sooner or later someone will try to change the existing situation by force."
"A situation which has been changed by war generally can only be changed by another war," he said. "Czechoslovakia and Poland will not have their frontiers changed. They are our allies. Prayers are not enough. We must face problems with realism. (West German Chancellor Konrad) Adenauer does not agree, but who asked Adenauer for his opinion?" Italian foreign minister Giuseppe Pella interrupted. "I must say that we do not share your point of view on Berlin and Germany," Khrushchev said. "We will teach

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Tibetans here still crossing the snowbound Himalayas to escape Communist rule of their homeland. ## Man Tied in Home by Two Teenagers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A comfortable hospital bed and plenty of good food must seem like heaven to Edgar Allen, 65, who lay on the floor of his home from last Monday to Saturday—bound hand and foot.

Allen, normally a 100-pounder, reduced to about 80 before he was found. But he was sprightly enough to greet his rescuer with "Boy, am I glad to see you. C'mon in."

Allen was saved when Gene Shaw, owner of a restaurant that he patronized daily, missed him. Shaw sent William Terry, of Union, Ohio, to Allen's home in near-by Englewood.

Terry discovered Allen tied with drapery cord. The retired department store employee said two teenagers had grabbed him outside his home, forced him inside and tied him up. Police said the pair took $1.07, Allen's 1951 car and his dead wife's rings.

Another 24 to 48 hours and it would have been too late to save Allen, doctors at Good Samaritan Hospital here said. As it was, he suffered extreme malnutrition and dehydration.

Nixon Studies Over Wisconsin Entry

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he will decide sometime this week whether he will enter Wisconsin's April 5 presidential preference primary.

He told newsmen as he arrived here that he would have a "skull session" with state GOP leaders before he returns to Washington after a speech tonight.

Dam Could Cause Rail Flooding

WASHINGTON (AP) — R. R. Thompson of Eureka Springs Ark. today sought help of the Arkansas Congressional Delegation with problems facing the Arkansas & Ozark Railway as a result of construction of Table Rock Dam and Reservoir.

The railroad operates a 68-mile line between Harrison, Ark., and Seligman, Mo., most of it in Arkansas.

Thompson, a former state senator, told Arkansas members of congress at a breakfast that 28 miles of the railroad's line will be subject to occasional flooding when the Table Rock Reservoir is filled to capacity. When that occurs, he said, Harrison would be cut off.

His proposal is that Army Engineers should build a 10-mile spur from Harrison to Bergman, Ark., to connect with the Missouri Pacific line and pay the Arkansas & Ozark damages for the part subject to flooding.

Army Engineers, he said, would limit payment to the railroad to $27,000 for the 2.8 mile segment.

The Army Engineer theory is the entire line was abandoned years ago and while the 68-mile segment has continued in operation damages should be limited to salvage value for the 2.8 miles.

Thompson told the delegation the plan he outlined could be handled for less than one million dollars.

Rep. J. W. Trimble (D-Ark) said he would do all he could to help. Also attending the meeting were Sens. John L. McClellan and J. W. Fulbright and Reps. Oren Harris, W. F. Norrell and E. C. Gathings.

Extra $950 Millions Asked by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra 950 million dollars in appropriations for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

Most of it is for the executive branch, the bulk of it for mandatory expenses such as grants to states, ship operating subsidies and costs of the Commodity Credit Corp. There also are some unforeseen expenses such as those to repair damage caused by an earthquake in Yellowstone National Park.

The White House said the request was taken into account in the latest budget revision.

For the 1961 fiscal year, beginning July 1, Eisenhower proposed today a cut of some 66½ million dollars for the Veterans Administration.

The White House said this reflects a reduction from 225,000 to 200,000 in the average number of educational trainees under the GI Bill of Rights, plus a small reduction in general operational expenditures.

Eisenhower formally submitted a request for an extra 113 million dollars for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the 1961 fiscal year, chiefly to push the Saturn project to develop high thrust booster rockets.

The decision to increase Saturn funds had been announced previously.

CHAPTERS XXVI

Madam Janeway sat behind her flat mahogany desk with its inset top of handtooled leather. She smiled and waved me to a chair.

"You must overlook Oscar's manners," she said gently. "He is sometimes very clumsy. You handled the matter admirably. It has augmented my good opinion of you, Orrin."

I wondered if Oscar had related to her all that passed between us, including the matter of my remark about knife throwing. But I did not ask.

"Will it be possible for you," she asked, "to undertake a mission to Albany for me? Leaving today."

"In that case I shall have to hurry," I told her. "What do you wish me to do in Albany?"

"You will," she said, "call upon Mr. Horatio Dewitt at his bank and deliver into his hands a package I shall entrust to you, and take his receipt for it, and receive from him a sealed envelope in return."

"Is that all, Madam?"

"It seems like a mere errand," she said with an understanding smile, "and beneath the dignity of a member of the bar. But I assure you that is not so. It is of first importance." She hesitated and her eyes lost their sparkle as she gave thought to some matter that seemed to trouble her.

"Mr. Dewitt is a most inquisitive person," she said. "He will ask troublesome questions. He is a prying man."

"I shall be very ignorant, Madam."

She raised her eyes to mine, and now they were bright and quick with intelligence and with a touch of malice.

"Not too ignorant, Orrin," she said.

I tried to read what was in her mind, but could not do so. Evidently she did not want me to be completely closed mouthed with Mr. Dewitt, but what did she wish me to disclose and what did she wish me to retain?

"Upon what matter shall I be indiscreet?" I asked and smiled.

She returned my smile coyly. "If I should open yonder safe," she said, "it would be but natural for you to glance inside."

"Nothing," I replied, "could be more natural."

"Mr. Dewitt, knowing you to be my attorney, might bring up the matter of safes," she said. "He might even try to take you by surprise with a question."

"About this safe," I asked, "or the one in my office? To which, by the way, I have not received the combination."

"His safe of course," she said a trifle sharply. "Why do you speak of the other one?"

"Because," said I, "it was visited early this morning."

"How do you know that?" she demanded.

"The intruder forgot to scrape his feet," I said.

"Did the safe seem to have been tampered with?"

"If it was opened," I replied, "it was by someone with the combination."

"Then you need not vex yourself," she assured me. "No one but me has the combination. But to return to Mr. Dewitt. If he asked a question about the contents of my safe, what would you reply?"

"That it seemed," I said, "to be full of documents and stocks and bonds."

"Seemed?" she asked with raised brows.

"That it was filled with documents and securities," I amended.

She nodded her head and then she lowered it and seemed to blush. "Orrin," she said, "you have heard rumors about me—odd rumors connecting my name with that of an eminent gentleman in New York."

"Everyone has heard rumors," I told her.

"What gentleman was named?" she pressed me.

"Dan'l Drew," I said flatly.

"I have been named his mistress," she said unhappily, "or his daughter."

"Yes," I answered.

"I would prefer, as any decent woman would," she said, "to be his illegitimate daughter rather than his mistress."

"Naturally," I said, though it seemed to me that any decent woman would prefer to be neither.

"If he questions me on the point, I could state that professional ethics stopped me from discussing it."

"But," she said, and stared at me fixedly, "as my trusted attorney you would be apt to know the truth."

"I do not know the truth," I said firmly.

"But you do," she said, nodding her beautiful head and smiling graciously, "know that I prefer to be gossiped about as his daughter."

"I think madam," I said not too pleased about the whole business, "that I have my instructions."

She arose and went to her small safe, which she opened delfy, kneeling so that I could see over her shoulder into the interior.

From a pigeonhole she extracted a thick packet, sealed with red wax and made more secure by tape. This she handed to me. I placed it in my coat pocket.

"See to it," she said "that you get a receipt in addition to a packet Mr. Dewitt will give you in return."

I left the house. Oscar saw me to the door silently. I plowed my way across the street to my home.

After luncheon I packed a small bag and walked briskly down to our depot which Mr. Vanderbilt had dedicated not long ago.

Insurance Rate on Cars to Be Cut

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Harvey G. Combs said today that automobile collision and comprehensive coverage insurance rates in the state will be reduced by an estimated one million dollars or more this year.

But Combs said there's another side to the picture.

Combs said the reduction — effective on policies issued Wednesday and afterward — was possible because insurance companies have had an "improved experience" in paying off claims under the affected types of policies.

One reason for this, he said, is that now most claims are settled under liability insurance.

This means, he said, that money for the accidents has been "coming out of another pocket."

That is payments are made under liability insurance rather than collision insurance.

Liability insurance protects a driver against damage he may inflict to another's automobile.

Collision insurance protects against damage to his own automobile.

Combs said there hadn't been any reduction in accidents.

The reduction will amount to 10.30 per cent. On basis of present coverage that would be $1,077,825.

Combs noted also that an effort is underway to increase liability insurance rates.

Pap Needed All for His Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 9-year-old son of Rep. J. Edward Roush (D-Ind) recently heard his Sunday School teacher ask how many children would contribute a penny a day to the church building fund.

Every child but Joel Roush raised his hand.

"Why, Joel," the teacher said, "wouldn't you be willing to contribute a penny a day?"

"No," said Joel, "my father says he's going to need every cent we've got for his re-election campaign."

House Study of Super-road Is Underway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hints of far-reaching irregularities today preceded opening of a House investigation of spending and planning on the multibillion-dollar 41,000-mile interstate highway system.

A House Public Works subcommittee summoned defense and public roads officials for the lead-off phase of the inquiry dealing with inadequacies in defense aspects of the super highway network.

The hints of irregularities came from Rep. Jim Wright (D-Tex.), a committee member.

"Facts now being unearthed and soon to be disclosed could make the highly publicized payola irregularities seem like a child's game of marbles by comparison," Wright said.

The road program is expected to cost 40 billion dollars over a period of years.

Wright said that original cost estimates of the federal-state system have skyrocketed from $500,000 a mile to more than a million dollars a mile.

The interstate system of super-highways, of which the federal government bears 90 per cent of the cost and the states 10 per cent, was authorized by Congress in 1956. It will not be completed for another 13 years.

Senate Okays the Hays Appointment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate has confirmed President Eisenhower's appointment of Brooks Hays to a nine-year term on the board of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Hays was appointed last year to fill out an unexpired board term. The veteran representative from Arkansas' Fifth Congressional District was ousted by Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) in the November, 1958 general election.

Voluntary Voting Rights Asked

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said today it would be a "great national blessing" if all the states voluntarily granted equal voting rights to eligible Negro citizens without waiting to be forced into that policy.

In an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit, Rogers pledged continued efforts to end racial discrimination at the polls, which he called "a national problem that has been largely brushed under the rug for more than eight years."

"If good faith efforts were being made to give Negroes an equal opportunity to vote, there would be no necessity for federal action and none would be taken," he said.

Strong Wind Slams North California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Howling winds slammed sheets of rain and snow across Northern California Monday, killing at least three persons and forcing 1,000 others from their homes.

Another storm was reported on the way.

In the Sierra Nevada, a storm disrupted preparations for the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, 200 miles east of here.

The storm flooded highways, knocked over power lines, ripped trees from the ground, closed rural schools, and left six to seven feet of water in small Eel River Canyon lumber towns.

The Eel River Canyon, near Eureka and 350 miles north of San Francisco, was hardest hit by the storms. More than 750 residents left the tiny lumber and resort communities of Weott, Pepperwood and Myers Flat and fled to higher ground.

Humidity ranges from 55 to 60 percent in the eastern two thirds of Arkansas and from 50 to 55 percent in the western third of the state.

Gen. Taylor to Leave Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, whose left arm was broken Saturday night, is expected to leave Walter Reed Army Medical Center today.

Taylor, 58, former Army chief of staff, was injured when he walked against the side of a moving taxicab while crossing a street in downtown Washington. He now is an executive of a Mexico City utilities firm.

Knoxville Told to Plan Integration

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor today ordered the Knoxville School Board to submit by April 8 a plan for desegregating city schools.

Taylor issued his order after S. Frank Fowler, counsel for the board, told the court that the board did not plan to offer an integration plan unless one was ordered by the court.

Fowler told the court the board would comply with his directive.
